What is Applied Behavior Analysis?

Put simply, ABA is about creating an environment that enables someone to learn. Specifically, ABA consultations are designed to produce positive changes in social functioning and practical life skills while reducing disruptive and challenging behaviors.

ABA is widely recognized as a safe and effective treatment for autism and has been proven through numerous studies by state and government organizations in the US and worldwide.

What to Expect

Goals of ABA treatment are unique to each patient and based on what is developmentally appropriate. Treatment starts with developing a personalized plan through a detailed assessment of behaviors, skills and preferences along with input from family and caregivers. The assessment helps determine what is trying to be communicated through undesirable behaviors and provides a measurable framework for treatment.

Treatment can help:

Reduce Challenging Behaviors such as aggression, self-injury, unsafe behaviors, self-stimulatory behaviors, or repetitive acts

Strengthen and Maintain Replacement Behaviors that serve the same function as the problem behavior in an appropriate manner

Increase Desired Behaviors, social interactions, communication skills, and access to safe outings into the community

Teach Functional Life Skills such as toileting, dressing, eating, personal self-care, job readiness, and self-monitoring of these skills

Treatment in Real Life

Our ABA services are delivered in everyday environments; at home, at school, and in the community. We are the largest consulting group of its kind on the East Coast of the U.S. and deploy more than 350 consultants that provide ABA services in over 100 school districts/agencies in NJ, New York, Delaware, PA, & worldwide through the use of remote consultation technology.

Parents and Caregivers

Parent or caregiver involvement is integral because it helps ensure that the behaviors learned generalize across environments, whether it's home, school, or the community. For the best results you would actively participate in at least some of the sessions to learn the techniques that support the individual's success and incorporate these into your family's lifestyle.

Social Skills

We take a unique approach to social interaction and developing real world skills. Our specially designed and reinforcing limousines have been altered with our proprietary telehealth video technology to provide effective coaching and feedback directly to caregivers and clinicians. This service is available for qualifying individuals as a fun alternative to a school bus, and without the stigma.
